

Are you interested in using simulation in your teaching?

Do you have simulation resources you want to share with others?

Are you looking for simulation resources to use in your teaching?

Interested in knowing about the global open educational resources movement?

The Simshare Workshops are just for you!

You will:

1. Learn about OER, and how you can be a part of it.
2. Have access to a wealth of free resources for teaching.
3. Have help in getting started in using simulation as a form of teaching, learning and assessment.
4. Practise assembling a simulation on paper and have access to online resources to help you do this.
5. Know how to download and upload resources to our OER website.

These free interdisciplinary events are for academics interested in simulation learning.

For further information, including updates on presentations and keynotes please contact patricia.mckellar@warwick.ac.uk

Please see overleaf for outline of programme and dates.

You are invited to attend one of our free workshops to share resources in simulation learning:

15 March 2010: University of Cardiff

21 April 2010: University of York

19 May 2010: University of Edinburgh

Further information will be available shortly from:
